BRIEF HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

Government College, Rajahmundry started functioning as a Zilla school in 1853 and was upgraded as a Provincial school of Madras presidency in 1868. This was the beginning of the unbroken story of Government College, Rajahmundry which completed 160 years of its mammoth service in the field of Higher Education. It is the first and the oldest college in Andhra Pradesh. The high school classes were discontinued in 1885 and since then the college has remained exclusively as college for University classes. The College was affiliated to University of Madras in 1891.

At the commencement of 19th century, the Government College at Rajahmundry was one of the only three graded Colleges maintained by Government in Madras Presidency, and the other two being the Presidency College at Chennai and the Kumbakonam College at Kumbakonam. Having been started by the British, the college imparted Higher Education of European Standards under the masterly guidance of academic luminaries from Oxford and Cambridge Universities and produced personae par excellence in all fields of life and learning.
