National Education Day 2025 was celebrated on November 11, 2025 in Government College (A), Rajahmundry, to commemorate the birth anniversary of Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, India's first Education Minister. This day honors his tireless efforts in shaping modern Indian education, emphasizing universal primary education, adult literacy, and girls' education.

Key Highlights:

- Establishment of Key Institutions: Azad founded institutions like UGC, IITs, IISc, and AICTE, promoting scientific research and innovation.
- Education as a Fundamental Right: Azad believed education is essential for democracy and equality.
- Inclusive Education: He advocated for free and compulsory primary education, adult literacy, and technical training.

Theme for 2025:

The theme is "AI and Education: Preserving Human Agency in a World of Automation," highlighting the balance between technology and human values in learning.
